

DePaul University
College of Education
Assistant/Associate Professor – School Counseling

The Counseling Program at DePaul University in Chicago, IL is accepting applications for a tenure-track position in School Counseling to start in Fall 2018. We seek a colleague prepared to teach graduate courses across the core and school counseling curricula, advise school counseling students, and contribute to the profession through active scholarship and service. The candidate should demonstrate a strong commitment to school counseling initiatives including Transformed School Counseling, evidence-based practice and culturally responsive services. The successful candidate will support departmental and programmatic initiatives that create a culture of student engagement, critical inquiry, and the development of counselors as practitioners, scholars and leaders. Applications will be accepted immediately and the position will remain open until filled.

Required Qualifications

- Earned doctorate in Counselor Education, preferably from a CACREP-accredited program
- Professional identity as a Counselor Educator
- Professional experience as a School Counselor
- Demonstrated record teaching graduate counseling courses
- Established scholarship record and/or agenda
- Professional and academic experiences with diverse populations
- Membership in professional organizations (e.g., American School Counseling Association, American Counseling Association)
- Commitment to addressing issues of diversity and difference, equity, power and privilege, and the increasingly globalized context of education

Preferred Qualifications

- Experience supervising counseling graduate students
- Service within the counseling profession

How to Apply

For more information and to apply, please visit:

<https://facultyopportunities.depaul.edu/postings/1605>

DePaul University is an Equal Opportunity / Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, ethnicity, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, marital status, physical or mental disability, protected veteran status, genetic information or any other legally protected status, in accordance with applicable federal, state and local EEO laws.

DePaul College of Education

The mission of DePaul University's College of Education is to prepare educators, counselors, and leaders who are committed to creating equitable, compassionate, intellectually rich, and socially just environments. As part of a Vincentian university, we cultivate the social conscience, understandings, and practices necessary to address social inequities among and with individuals, communities, and institutions. We develop critical, creative, knowledgeable practitioners and scholars who continually inquire and reflect on educational and professional practices. Through authentic experiences in and outside the classroom and other educational environments we prepare our students to be engaged, service-oriented citizens of local and global communities.

The Vincent DePaul Counseling Program

The Vincent DePaul Counseling Program is grounded in three core Vincentian values of Justice, Service, and Leadership. Justice is the affective value that transforms the human spirit toward empathy in caring for others. Service is the effective value that equips people to courageously respond to the real needs of individuals, communities, and society at large. Leadership is the advocacy value that brings people together to effect systemic change.

Counseling Program Mission

The DePaul Counseling Program prepares reflective practitioners grounded in the foundational principles of the counseling profession: to enhance quality of life in society, to promote respect for human dignity and to support diversity. Deeply rooted in the Vincentian values of Justice, Service and Leadership, the program is dedicated to inspire a new generation of social entrepreneurs for cultural, political, and economic advancement. DePaul counseling students gain skills and real-life professional experience in evidence-based practices. Graduates are prepared for dynamic careers in schools, universities and the community.

For questions regarding this position, please contact Dr. Rebecca Michel, Search Committee Chair, at rebecca.michel@depaul.edu.