

EVANGEL UNIVERSITY
Assistant Professor of Counseling
JOB OPENING

JOB TITLE:

Assistant Professor of Counseling

DEPARTMENT:

The Department of Behavioral and Social Sciences of Evangel University is accepting applications for assistant professor – Counseling. The position begins August 1, 2018

CLASSIFICATION:

This is a full time salaried position based on a nine-month contract. Optional summer teaching loads will be negotiated as a separate contract.

JOB SUMMARY:

Assistant professor of counseling is responsible for teaching core counseling and specialty coursework in either school counseling or clinical mental health counseling.

DUTIES & RESPONSIBILITIES:

The primary responsibilities will be to teach in graduate counseling program. The typical teaching load will consist of 9-12 hours per semester of graduate counseling courses. This may include didactic and field courses. The applicant will be responsible to facilitate student learning in accordance with established curriculum, advise students relative to their academic progress, and contribute to counseling program in order to meet and secure accreditation standards set forth by the Higher Learning Commission and Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). Moreover, a successful applicant will participate in all department meetings, adhere to Evangel University and department policies and procedures, including those set forth in the Faculty Handbook and the Faculty Contract. The applicant will be expected to mentor students academically and spiritually, as well as perform other duties as assigned.

The successful applicant will be expected to participate in scholarly activities, provide academic advising to students, and participate in department, college, university and community public service. It is expected that the successful candidate remains professionally active in the national, state, and local counseling community.

QUALIFICATIONS:

The successful candidate will be a licensed professional counselor with an earned doctorate in Counselor Education and Supervision, preferably from a CACREP accredited program. Applicants with a projected doctoral conferral date of a year or less are welcome to apply.

Additionally, a successful candidate must have excellent communication skills (verbal and written), ability to work collaboratively with others; ability to teach and evaluate students; ability to adapt to changing technologies that support teaching and learning; possess excellent organizational skills; and demonstration, through past accomplishments and behaviors, of the ability to support Evangel University's principles and values of character, scholarship, culture, service and the university's strong student-centered vision and mission.

Minorities are encouraged to apply.

The successful candidate must also be an active member of an Assemblies of God church.

STARTING DATE: August 1, 2018

INSTRUCTIONS FOR APPLYING:

Submit application materials to Dr. Donna Washburn, chair of the Behavioral Sciences Department, 1111 N. Glenstone Avenue, Springfield, Missouri, 65802 or washburnd@evangel.edu

Applications materials must include 1) a letter of application addressing all qualifications, 2) a curriculum vitae 3) a statement of your teaching philosophy, 4) official graduate and undergraduate transcripts 5) the names and contact information for three professional references, 6) explanation of practical experience in the counseling, most notable school counseling, 7) recent student evaluations, 8) and an Evangel University online job application.

Applicants who do not submit the required application materials will not be considered.

Evangel is a comprehensive Christian university with a seminary, located in Springfield, Mo., and draws more than 2,000 students from all 50 states. The focus of Evangel is to train young people for leadership positions in business, government, church and home, through a commitment to the integration of faith, learning and life. Evangel offers 65 undergraduate majors and, with the Assemblies of God Theological Seminary, a variety of master's and doctoral degrees.